

“Enabling Successful Discovery and Applications”

January 26-28, 2015; Arlington VA

Data—Tools—Sharing

The National Nanomanufacturing Network (NNN) coordinated a workshop convening participants from industry, academia and government to highlight advancements and opportunities of informatics in nanomanufacturing, EHS, materials design, engineering and fundamental science. This workshop helped to identify compelling nanotech data and tools, factors that make data useful and searchable, strategies for sharing data and future objectives. Conference website and proceedings: <http://nanoinformatics.org/>